$10.5-Million Bond Issue Set March 30 For Joliet College

Voters of Frankfort and New Lenox townships, along with others in the Joliet Junior College district are asked by the board to approve a $10½ million bond issue in a special referendum called for March 30.

The board has an option on a campus site in Troy Township west of Joliet. The cost of equipping the college plus a fourth of the building cost will fall upon the district. The state is supposed to pay three-fourths of the cost, so it is estimated the campus will cost some $40 million.

The college board announced it expects in time to have an enrollment of 10,000 and the campus is being built to accommodate that number.

Until the new campus is complete the college district will be paying rent to Joliet High School District 204 for the use of a portion of the Joliet Central building. The high school is asking $336,000 but it was reported this figure is under negotiation.

Joliet Junior College district spreads into Grundy and Kendall counties as well as including a large portion of Will. There are 64 polling

Movies To Benefit Scholarship Fund

Two movies are to be shown at Lincoln-Way High School the afternoon and evening of March 30 for the benefit of the Varsity Club's scholarship fund.

Proceeds will be used for a scholarship to be given an area senior nominated by the L-W coaching staff and selected by the Varsity Club.

Factors to be considered: Need, Loyalty and Dedication.

The matinee performances will begin at 1:30 and 4:15. This will be for youngsters and devoted to the adventures of an outer space patrol in the 21st century. A space ship orbiting earth goes out of control and if not checked will destroy the earth. You can figure there will be a lot of maneuvers, a lot of suspense, a lot of thrills. This will be follow-places in the district, it was announced, and the polls will be open from 7 a.m. to 7 p.m.

ed by an hour of cartoons.

The evening shows for parents and young adults, are scheduled for 6:30 and 8:30 o'clock. "All the Young Men," is the title of the feature, starring Alan Ladd, Sidney Poitier, James Darren and Mort Sahl, in the role of U.S. Marines trapped in a tough spot in Korea.

Ronald Stopka, athletic director and sponsor of the Varsity Club, is aiding that organization in its fund raising for its scholarship fund.

Private groups, clubs, schools and individuals can pick up tickets from Mr. Stopka at Lincoln-Way or from any Varsity Club member. Tickets also will be sold at the door, starting at 12:30 p.m. on Saturday, March 30. The price is $1 for adults, 75 cents, students, and 50 cents for youngsters.

SWS Music Festival At Bremen High March 29

The Southwest Conference schools will merge their best musicians into all-conference band, choir, and orchestra groups for a music festival at Bremen High School, March 29, at 7:30 p.m.

Each musical group will be a select organization composed of the top musicians from each school. Musicians participating are from Bremen, Homewood-Flossmoor, Lincoln-Way, Evergreen Park, Oak Lawn, Reavis, Rich East, and Carl Sandburg.

Bruce Houseknecht, band director for the past 21 years at Joliet Central High School, will wield his baton over the all-star band. He was recently honored by the Illinois band leaders when they picked him to lead the all-state band on its European tour this summer. Houseknecht is a graduate of the University of Pennsylvania and of the Eastman School of Music. He has been director of college bands on various campuses in the summers. About 120 SWSC musicians join together to form the all-conference band which will play at Bremen.

The all-conference choir will consist of about 250 singers. Directing them will be Irving Bunton, a vocal director from the Chicago public schools District 19. He is the director of the all-city high school chorus and has degrees from Northwestern and the University of Illinois. In 1963, Bunton was choral director for "My People," a Duke Ellington centennial production staged in McCormick Place.

An all conference orchestra will be led by Henry Justice, Eisenhower High School's orchestra leader for the past five years. About 100 musicians will merge to form the all-conference orchestra. Justice is a graduate of Capital University in Ohio and did advanced work at the American Conservatory of Music in Chicago. He'll conduct the summer orchestra at the University of Kansas this summer.

Each of the three groups will play several numbers and the concert will end with two combined numbers. The orchestra and choir will join in presenting "Coronation Festival," and the band and choir will join a dual presentation of "March of Freedom."

Admission is $1.25 for adults and 75 cents for students.

Expect Announcement Of Airport Site By April 1

D-Day on the airport question is at hand.

Location of the site selected for Chicago's third major airport is expected to be announced by April 1.

The Chicago Aviation Committee, which will make the recommendation for the site location, has probably reached its decision now but it is not expected that the location will be made public until next week.

This information was forthcoming from Ferdinand Rosa, administrative engineer and assistant commissioner of the Aviation Committee, at a joint dinner meeting of the Chamber of Commerce of New Lenox, Mokena and Frankfort at New Lenox on Tuesday, March 12.

The Chicago Research Company, which has been making a study of the various land sites for an airport was expected to make its recommendation to the Aviation Committee within a week, Rosa said. It has been 10 days since the meeting so if the research group completed its work as expected the aviation group should have its report by now.

As of the date on which Rosa addressed the area group no decision had been reached as to where the new airport should be located, he emphasized.

"Personally," he said, "I would put the airport in the lake but the decision isn't mine."

If a land site is chosen it likely will be one of three -- Green Garden, Frankfort or Homer, it was believed.

Even if a site is recommended by the aviation committee there are still many things to be considered and worked out before actual work on an airport is started.

Marley School Voters Death Tax Increase

For the second time within four months the voters of Homer School District 33-C turned thumbs down on a proposed increase in the educational fund tax rate, when they went to the polls last Saturday.

The proposal, which would have increased the tax rate from 90 cents to $1.11 per $100 equalized assessed valuation, was beaten by a margin of 70 votes. There were 195 "No" votes cast as compared to 125 for the proposition.

When the proposal was voted on last Dec. 2 there were 119 against the increase and 111 for it, a difference of only eight votes.

First, said Rosa, it must be cleared with the Federal Aviation Administration which determines if there would be any conflict with flight patterns already in effect; secondly, it is easily accessible and third will the costs be acceptable to the airlines.

The speaker explained there is no tax money involved in building a major airport. Revenue bonds are issued, underwritten by the airlines, because interest is met and the bonds paid off thru the fees and rents paid by them.

Midway Airport has been completely renovated, Rosa said, and will be in operation by May 1. It will accommodate prop planes and the lighter jets -- up to three engines. The four engine jets would be unable to use Midway, the speaker said.

O'Hare Field was built to accommodate 550,000 operations a year, Rosa said, as its maximum capacity. In 1967 the number of operations totaled 643,787, he added, so that it is imperative that a third airport be built by 1975 -- when the jumbo jets carrying between 300 and 400 passengers will be put into service -- or Chicago will become a second class air center instead of a first.

Rosa said that 11,000 acres would be required for an airport, which is 17 square miles. The maximum length runway for the jumbo jets, he said, would be 16,000 feet. These jumbos could carry 499 passengers, Rosa said, but the airlines plan to transport only between 300 and 400. The superjumbos will come later. O'Hare lacks the facilities now to take care of the situation that would arise if three or four of the jumbos landed at approximately the same time, Rosa said.

Plans are in the making, he went on, to spend $280-million in expanding O'Hare Field. By building parallel runways the capacity in such sections would be double the present number of operations.

By 1980, Rosa said, it is estimated the number of air passengers using Chicago will be up to 87-million. It is important then that a new airport be built as speedily as possible, he declared. Rosa also pointed out that if an airport could be served by a railroad or other mass transportation it would be accessible to greater numbers at low cost.

In response to a question which reviewed statements given at previous area meetings to the effect that pilots had delivered an ultimatum to the airlines that because of the hazards they would not fly into a field in Lake Michigan, Rosa smiled.

"When all the airlines ran into Midway," he said, "the pilots lived in congested areas. When the airport was moved to O'Hare they found living much better. Some have $40,000 homes, some have what amounts to estates. Their wives can drive them to the field in 10 minutes and pick them up on their return. They don't want to have to go back living in crowded, dirty old Chicago, which some would have to do if the airport were built in the lake."

Mr. Rosa spoke for William Downs, commissioner of the Chicago Aviation Committee, who had to be at New Orleans. Rosa was introduced by Don Jurgens, of the New Lenox Chamber of Commerce which sponsored the meeting which was held in Bruns restaurant. Approximately 100 attended including officials and residents from all the area communities.

Discuss Budget, And Award Well Contract At Frankfort

Appropriations took most of the attention of the Frankfort Village Board at its meeting Monday night.

Final figures were not reached but the trustees have made a good beginning. The appropriations for the coming 1968-69 fiscal year which begins May 1, will be higher than those of a year ago, it appeared, because there is an increased need for services and costs are greater.

When the budget is completed the board will then determine how much of the money must be raised thru tax levies and how much will come from other sources.

The appropriation ordinance itself does not mean that the village will spend the amount it carries; it means that if the money should become available the village could make the expenditures set forth. If funds are not appropriated for certain purposes they cannot be spent for same, it was explained. Therefore, appropriation ordinances are always higher than actual expenditures.

Trustee Robert Dean, chairman of the finance committee, with the aid of the other trustees and Village Attorney August Santoro is chalking down amounts that will be needed. Santoro, who will draft the ordinance in its final form, says that he believed it would be passed the second meeting in April.

No definite figures are available at this time. There was one, however, that probably will be on the appropriation list, some $15,000 for a new well.

A contract was awarded for the new well Monday night to the Wehling Well Works of Beecher for $9,320. Money also will be needed for the pumphouse and electrical controls. The well will be located at the southeast corner of the park.

Santoro reported to the board that the village is the owner of the park property and legally entitled to locate a well there.

Four firms submitted bids on the well. The figures for the others were: K & K Well Drilling Co., Mokena, $9,304.50; Layne-Western, Aurora, $10,725, and J.P. Miller, $11,251. Village Engineer Robert Hamilton recommended acceptance of the Wehling bid and the contract was so awarded.

Reports of M.G. Batson, of the state fire prevention bureau, covering the two schools and the Methodist and St. Peter's churches, was filed with the board. In all instances the housekeeping was termed satisfactory as was maintenance and repair. There were some faults found, practically all of a minor nature, but on the whole the inspector was satisfied.

In a fire drill at Frankfort School 318 pupils were evacuated from the building in 65 seconds; at Chelsea the 168 pupils there were gotten out of the building in 45 seconds.

It was decided by the board to advertise for bids on the extension of Nebraska St. This improvement will be paid for out of Motor Fuel Tax and thru assistance by the township.

Persons who want to erect a garden house or tool shed -- made up or manufactured from scratch -- must have a building permit, the board decided.

SUNDAY, MARCH 17, marked the start of the nine-week contest for Sunday school attendance emphasis on the Church of the Nazarene, New Lenox. The contest is between the red and blue team and stresses the need for Sunday school.

Harry Gilbert, left, capt. of the red team is cutting the tie of Gary Rupnow, capt. of the blue team. For each of the nine Sundays, the losing team captain will have his necktie clipped 1 1/2 in.

3 In School Board Contest At Mokena

To date, three candidates have filed petitions for the Mokena Board of Education. The final filing date is Saturday, March 23.

Two positions on the board expire this year. The election will be held on Saturday, April 13, from 12:00 noon to 7:00 p.m. Voting will take place at Carpenter Street School.

James Quinn is seeking a place on the board for the first time. He is married and father of two sons, Kevin and Sean, both in grade school.

Mr. Quinn is employed in the advertising department of Swift & Co. The Quinn family have resided in Mokena for 15 years and live at 11110 Parker Ave.

Two incumbents, Mr. Willard Barenz, and Edwin Yunker are seeking re-election.

Mr. Barenz is completing his first term. He was appointed to the board three years ago to fill a vacancy. He then ran successfully for the balance of the unexpired term. He is married and has two daughters, Janice and Janine, in grade school. He is employed by the Chicago, Rock Island and Pacific Railroad as chief accountant, in the accounting department.

Mr. Yunker is completing his fifth term on the board. He owns and operates a grain and dairy farm located at the edge of the village. He is married and has two sons. Both are teachers, Lee at West Chicago High School in DuPage County, and Ron at Bensenville Junior High School in Cook County.

LINCOLN-WAY High School physical education dept. will present its eighth annual P.E. show, Thursday, March 28 at 8:00 p.m. in the school gymnasium.

Pictured above are students participating in the P.E. show. Included will be comedy acts, modern dance numbers, free exercise, tumbling and stunts involving gymnastic apparatus.

The purpose of the program is to exhibit skills of endurance, coordination and stamina, all necessary for physical fitness. There will be no admission charge. The public is invited.

Mail New Telephone Books

New telephone directories were mailed to subscribers in New Lenox and Frankfort beginning March 18; beginning today they will be mailed to subscribers in the Mokena area.

Bud Schager, Illinois Bell manager, said the colorful directory cover salutes the new Will County courthouse in Joliet and the Illinois Sesquicentennial celebration with a black ink drawing of the building superimposed over a background of red, white and blue Sesquicentennial seals.

"Complete details on how to call from New Lenox, Frankfort and Mokena appear in the opening pages of the new directory," Schager said. "New money-saving long-distance rates in effect since last November are explained on page 6."

Schager said the new directory will have the same convenient "three-in-one" format as last year's.

The front white-pages section will contain numbers for subscribers in New Lenox, Frankfort, Manhattan and Mokena. Yellow pages listings will cover the same area.

A rear white-pages section will include all numbers listed in the front section plus those for subscribers in some 17 other area communities including Joliet, Lockport and Plainfield.

A graphic explanation of the directory's organization appears on the back

Schager said subscribers may begin using the new directories as soon as they receive them. He cautioned them to give old directories a good shaking before discarding, however, to prevent loss of items "filed" between the pages.

He said anyone who has not received a new directory by March 25 should call the telephone business office. Speedy delivery will be arranged.

Frankfort School Plans Science Fair

The Science Fair to be conducted by the Frankfort Grade School will be held in the school gymnasium, Oregon and Ash, tomorrow and Saturday.

Judging will take place tomorrow night, between 6:30 and 8:30 o'clock. Students participating in the fair will be explaining their projects to the judges and public at this time. The gymnasium will be open Saturday morning also for early visitors.

Approximately 50 projects have been entered this year. Students have the choice of working individually or in twos or threes. The Frankfort Inquisitive Scientists, as the school science club is called have the responsibility of planning this year's fair. Committee members most directly involved include Norman Hecht, Robert Stuckey, Homer Roberts, Jerry Johnson, Thomas Novata and Dana Anderson.

The projects scoring in a point range of 36 to 50 will be awarded a first prize ribbon; second place will go to those ranging in points from 25 to 35, and third place to those with 10 to 35 points.

Judges this year will be John Marshall, science teacher at New Lenox; Robert Hinze, science teacher Arbury Hills, and Lee Zettersgren, a graduate student in zoology at Southern Illinois University.

The six top projects will be entered in the district science fair at Thornridge High School.

Ask "J" To Correct Center Rd. Hazards

The hazardous conditions complained of at the Center Rd. crossing of the Elgin, Joliet & Eastern Railway were discussed by the village board at its regular meeting Monday night.

The board instructed Village Attorney August Santoro to address a letter to the E.J. & E. asking them to correct conditions.

Trustee Lynn Kohlhausen said there is a great deal more switching at Frankfort than formerly and it was his understanding that there was something about manner in which trains approached that governed the mechanism that lowers and raises the crossing gates.

Kohlhausen, whose business -- K & K Concrete -- is near the crossing said that sometimes the gates are down for 10-15-20 minutes when no train is near the crossing.

Perhaps just the engine is visible and it may be making a switch elsewhere but is not approaching the crossing. As a result hundreds of people "run" the crossing gates daily, it was said.

Trustees fear such careless behavior can lead to tragedy. They also are concerned with complaints received from residents that railroad cars are left so close to the crossing that motorists approaching it have no view of the tracks and cannot tell if a train is approaching because, it was said, the gates don't always lower in time to block the crossing if a thru train is approaching.

It was also charged that the gates have a disconcerting way of coming down behind one after he starts across the tracks.

Last Saturday was a classic example of why dogs should not run loose. As I looked out my front window I saw a boxer and a german shepherd fighting across the street and a boy trying to break the fight up with a broom. These are both large dogs and could have turned their attention on the boy instead of each other and we could have had a very serious conclusion to this story. If these dogs are permitted to run loose eventually we will have a very serious situation on our hands.

POW Sponsors Conference On Proposed Area Airport

An important conference to discuss the problems and advantages of locating a third major airport in Southwest Chicagoland is being sponsored by the Palos - Orland -

Worth Area Council. It will be held at 7:30 p.m. March 28, at the Palos Country Club, 131st St. and Southwest Hwy. Admission will be free for all POW members. A nominal entrance fee to help defray the expenses of the conference will be charged all non-members. Advanced sales will be $1 per person.

treatment and can be shaped dramatically without distortion.

Other interesting specimens in the Bonsair exhibit will be small-leaved maples, ginkgoes, and even oaks and willows. When ready for show, the containers for the trees resemble miniature landscapes that occasionally even include tiny figures of people or animals. Such tiny settings are especially suited for photography and in fact photography is encouraged at the show.

The show is located at the International Amphitheatre on 43rd and Halsted St. It can be reached by taking the Dan Ryan Expressway to 43rd St. and traveling east to the show. There is room for thousands of cars next to the Amphitheatre.

Legionnaires

Bobzin - Swinford Post, American Legion, at Frankfort, is honoring former Frankfort mayor, George Sangmeister, at dinner tonight at 6 o'clock in the Veterans Memorial Building. The Frankfort village board members and their wives have been invited.

Mr. Sangmeister served as mayor of Frankfort for more than 30 years.

Sale of tickets at the door will be $1.50 per person.

Because capacity of available space is limited, advance sales should be sent to the Palos - Orland - Worth Council in care of Sigmund Kapp, 6872 W. 115th Pl., Worth, Ill., without delay, announced Martin Ozinga, president of POW.

Representatives from the Kankakee Chamber of Commerce, the Joliet Chamber of Commerce, the Lochner Corp., engineers, and the Air Line Pilots Association, will be present to answer questions. Mayor Daley or one of his representatives has also been invited to discuss the proposed lake airport.

The conference is expected to attract several hundred inhabitants of the area anxious to learn more about the problems and advantages connected with the location of such an airport. Among several sites mentioned, the Homer Township location near Lockport and the Green Garden Township location, near Frankfort, will attract most attention.

"A major airport in this area", said Zay Smith, executive director of POW, "will seriously affect the 350 square miles in the area. Before issuing a policy statement concerning a third airport, the POW Area Council is attempting to gather and evaluate pertinent facts and figures. It is anxious to learn what effects in the area will result from accelerated population growth, new housing, businesses and industry related to an airport, new highways, mass transit systems, new schools, changing property values, and other related factors. With the greatest amount of undeveloped land around Chicago, the area is being referred to as the Frontier of Chicagoland."

You don't have to be a gardener to enjoy the coming Chicago World Flower and Garden Show, March 23 - 31. All you have to enjoy is the beauty of a park.

However, if you are a gardener or have recently moved to a new home from an apartment you'll find the University of Illinois exhibit especially helpful. It's an island arrangement that features gift plants for every occasion, attractive lawns and a vegetable garden that concentrates on how to grow all the elements for a salad bowl. Salad bowl gardening is featured because leafy green vegetables are the ones most suited for all gardens, even those that are in some shade.

As usual a number of new University of Illinois garden publications will be released for the first time at the show. "Care of Flowering Potted Plants" gives instructions on caring for chrysanthemum, azalea, Easter lily, poinsettia, hydrangeas and potted bulbs, such as tulip and hyacinth.

Also offered will be "Keeping a Lawn" a 16-page circular giving tips on all phases of lawn care including controlling diseases, fertilizing, watering and mowing properly.

Vegetable gardeners will be interested in "Growing Tomatoes at Home". This is a complete guide to selecting the best varieties for Illinois and other instructions for the first-tomato-in-the-block crowd.

After having their questions on horticulture answered, they will then be able to stroll by such gardens as the Diversified garden by Charles Klehm and Son Nursery of Arlington Heights. This garden will have a living area in the form of patio as its main feature. For action the patio is at the side of a small pool and water fall. Around the pool will be several spreading yews, large pines and birches. Of special interest will be the wiggly corylus contorta. This more popularly known as the corkscrew hazel or Harry Lauders walking stick. Another rare plant in this garden will be a large bed of blooming tree peonies mixed with the regular garden peony.

A few steps away from the Klehm garden will be an exhibit of Bonsai trees sponsored by the Midwest Bonsai Society.

According to exhibit chairman Norman Downing, juniper is the most common American Bonsai because it is most tolerant of rough

Mokena Plans New School

The Mokena Grade School board is again faced with a classroom shortage. Six new classrooms were opened last September and they are already filled to capacity.

This fact, plus the fact that completion of I-80 is bringing an increase in population; introduction of a kindergarten system now required by law, and the fact that the law will soon require special education classrooms for handicapped children, makes it imperative, a board spokesman said, to prepare now for class space.

At the regular school board election April 13, the people will also be asked to approve a $250,000 bond issue.

The money would be used for three purposes:

1. - To acquire a new school site adjoining Willowcrest School.

2. - To build a school there, and

3. - To effect some changes and repairs at Carpenter Street School.

The board of education is now negotiating with owners of the property adjoining Willowcrest to the north and east, for a site. The proposed building would be a two story structure, with the first floor completed and ready for occupancy in the fall of 1969, and the second floor would be finished later when funds would be available, it was explained.

The building would be either an eight or 12 room structure and what the final plans encompass will determine if each floor will contain four or six rooms.

As borrowing power would permit and the needs arise the rooms on the second floor would be completed. The master plan provides considerable flexibility for future expansion.

A portion of the bond issue would be earmarked for Carpenter Street School. The playground requires some repairs, as do the restrooms and the gymnasium floor.

The 4-year-old heating plant, a stoker-fed boiler, is costing the district more every year to keep it in repair and it has been recommended that it be replaced.

The board feels that it will be more economical to renovate Carpenter Street School than to replace it.

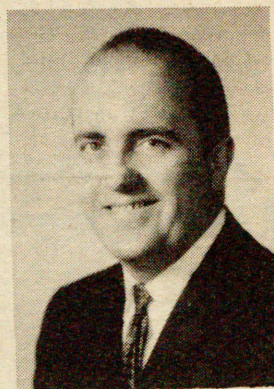

The principal reason for the negotiations for the proposed school site is, of course, the price. The board will announce the results as soon as they are available, the spokesman said.

Steel Firm Promotes Orland Pk. Resident

Russell T. Wagner, 8220 W. 135th St., Orland Park, has been appointed assistant superintendent of the Electrical Department at Republic Steel Corporation's Chicago District steel plant, Harry H. Northrup, district manager, has announced.

In his new position, effective immediately, Wagner succeeds Clarence M. Elliott, who recently was named superintendent of the Electrical Department at the 116th and S. Burley Av. steel plant.

R. T. WAGNER

Wagner joined Republic at the Chicago plant in August, 1948, as an electrical repairman helper-learner. He later was a motor inspector helper, repairman helper and test engineer senior before being appointed chief test engineer in 1953. Since November, 1967, he has been general foreman of substation and power distribution at the plant.

Born in Chicago, Wagner received his early education in Oak Lawn and was graduated from Calumet High School. He later studied power system engineering at Purdue Extension University. He is an instructor in electrical courses at Republic's Industrial Education Institute. Wagner is married and has five children.

New Softball Loop To Play At Frankfort

A six team softball league is being formed that will play its games on the Frankfort Community Park diamond this summer, it was announced by August Santoro, village attorney, a dyed-in-the-wool fan and one of the organizers of the loop.

Three teams have been signed to date, he said, Bianco Tap, of Joliet, and the Road Runners and the Lincoln Estates A.C., both of Lincoln Estates.

According to Santoro there will be two games a week, Tuesday and Thursday nights.

The village board will have two more banks of lights erected at the baseball field in time for the coming season. Next year the new lighting system will be complete.

were to see a lot of Africa. They were on two safaris. The first was a five-day trip that took them to Lake Manyara in the Rift Valley where viewed wild animal preserves, and on to the Ngorongoro Crater, second largest in the world. There they hired a Land Rover and drove into the crater where they took colored slides of wild animals in their natural setting.

Other stops included the Olduvai Gorge, where Dr. Leaky, an American, and his wife are doing research on pre-historic projects. They also visited a game preserve in the Serengeti Plains. The temperature was comfortable, they said, ranging from 80 in the day to 65 at night.

Their other safari was more extensive -- 16 days of travel into Secret Valley. One of their nights was spent in a hotel on stilts near a large waterhole. From the porches of the hotel the guests would watch the various animals as they came at dusk to drink.

Next stop was Parar Lodge at Murchison Falls in the Aberdare Mountains. There they took a trip down the Nile and into the Mountains of the Moon at Uganda. From there the travelers took a side trip to a Pigmy village in the Rowenzora Mountains on the Congo border.

The village had a population of about 200 but they were rather shy and peered out at their visitors from banana trees and brush and their huts. Mr. Welsh had his picture taken there with one of the village chiefs.

They also visited a Masai village. These people lead a nomadic existence traveling from place to place with their cattle herds.

On their return the Welshs took a plane from Nairobi that took them to Rome where they transferred to another airline and after stops at Milan, Italy, and Montreal, Canada, made O'Hare Field on the third leg.

They were seven weeks on their outward journey and three days on the return trip. In all they covered approximately 15,000 miles and like most travelers they enjoyed their trip but were glad to be home again.

The college, incidently, is located on the slopes of the Kilimanjaro Mountains at a 5,000-foot elevation. Two of the young Walters, David, 13, Kathy, 11, go to school. The homebody is 3-year-old Karol.

Mr. and Mrs. Welsh began their journey by boat and after several ports they debarked at Naples, from where they went to Rome. After several days of sight seeing they flew to Tel Aviv, Israel and spent a week touring the Holy Land. Then after stops at Athens, Madrid and the Canary Islands they took a British ship that carried them to Capetown, Africa. Then they flew to Johannesburg and Nairobi, where they were met by the Walters family. From there they drove to Marangu -- a seven hour drive -- which served as their base for the next two months.

In that time the Welshs scissors, one a reverse, in the course of the routine and while Terry has difficulty in getting his leg up as high as normal but he makes up for this by doing the most demanding moves possible in the "Maximum," but the effort doesn't get him any points. In high school competition the high and low scores are tossed out to obtain an average.

Weidman, however, says Nelson has had overtures and scholarship offers from some of the nation's best colleges in gymnastics, Indiana, Michigan, Michigan State, Iowa and Southern Illinois.

"There isn't any limit to his potential," said Weidman, "because in college competition the scores of the judges are totaled, not averaged."

Terry was unbeaten on the side horse in dual meets and in 32 of 33 two-way encounters since his junior year. In the southwest Suburban Conference gym championships about 10 days ago Terry won the side horse and still ring events.

Mokena Couple Back From Long Safari -- 15,000 Miles

After several months of strange sights, smells and sounds, the Walter Welshs are back again in Mokena with a wide variety of mementoes and pictures of their trip, highlighted by a two-month stay in Africa.

The reason for the journey was that the Welshes daughter, Marilyn, and her husband, Gerald Walters, and their three children, went to Africa two years ago on a teaching mission sponsored by the Lutheran Church of America. They have two more years to serve there.

The husband, whose parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Walters, reside at Peotone, teaches physical education and health at Marangu Teachers College, in Tanzania, East Africa. The wife teaches second grade in the Monshi elementary school three days a week, and spends two days teaching kindergarten at Ngoruma.

Nelson Draws Big Ovation At State

Terry Nelson, a senior gymnast at Lincoln-Way, did not finish first in his specialty -- the side horse -- in the prep school gymnastic finals in Champaign last week end, but when he finished his stint the lad received a standing ovation and many of the coaches said he should have won.

Unfortunately there is a rule that penalizes Terry because he was one time a polio victim. Thru his determination and work Terry has been able to throw away his crutches and then his cane.

Jerry Weidman, who coaches gymnastics at Lincoln-Way explained.

"Polio left Terry with a bad leg," he said, "so the judges downgrade him because his lower body weight is less than that on boys he competes against."

Ken Barr, of Prospect, was the winner with a score of 90.3. Terry's score was 80.5, which put him in fourth place.

Weidman further explained that on the side horse one is required to do four

AT A RECENT meeting of the Mokena Garden Club, the following officers were elected and will begin their term at the next meeting, March 2, at the home of Mrs. William Drinane.

Strip Annexation "In" Mokena Joins The Move

Strip annexation appears to be "in" these days. Years ago Chicago demonstrated its usefulness in making O'Hare Field a part of that municipality, a no mean feat, it was pointed out, when one considers it was a 19-mile job with a lot of the way thru hostile country. If a third airport is built in this southwest section that too will be annexed to Chicago, it was said.

So it is to be expected that area communities are getting into the act. Strip annexation, it should be explained, is the extension of municipal limits along roadways, on a sort of let-your-conscience - be - your - guide basis.

The idea is that at some future time some industry or commercial establishment, or some subdivider might want to locate along one of these road and the municipality laying claim to same, reasons that it would be able to annex property, if considered worthwhile, and have a voice in how the property is developed.

Some years ago there was a similar rush for strip extension of municipalities. That was when Adamowski was state's attorney of Cook County. He had an opinion from some lower courts that strip annexation was illegal and he advised those communities under his jurisdiction to rescind their strip annexation ordinances, and they did.

There is still a question among attorneys as to whether strip annexation would stand up in the top courts and as far as is known, it is still to be resolved. When challenged in the past most municipalities shied away from getting a court decision.

It was claimed that if no objections were filed to a strip annexation within a year after the ordinance had been passed that it was safe from attack in court. Now, however, lawyers who have such cases say this isn't true, that such an annexation can be attacked anytime.

Just recently Frankfort staked out limits on several highways.

And now Mokena's board of trustees has adopted four ordinances covering the annexation of certain roadways.

One deals with LaPorte, Lockport, Hamilton and Francis Rd., from U.S. 45 west to the New Lenox - Frankfort townline road, except parts already in the village.

Another ordinance annexes Wolf Rd. from U.S. 30 to the Will-Cook county line, except that portion already in the village.

Another measure takes in that portion of 191st St. from Wolf Rd. to U.S. 45 with the exception of those parts not previously annexed.

And the other ordinance annexes U.S. 45 between LaPorte Rd. and the Will-Cook line to the north.

That leaves a small piece -- about a quarter mile -- which is not included in any village. Frankfort's annexation of U.S. 45 halts at St. Francis Woods Rd. and Mokena's annexing doesn't begin until LaPorte Rd.

State and county speed limits will prevail on the roads annexed, it was said, except for those parts actually a part of a municipality.

Only modern electric heat is as clean as the sun

Electric heat is unlike any other type of home heating. It's flameless—it burns no fuel, and it keeps your whole house cleaner, more comfortable. And because an electrically-heated home stays clean longer, wall washing and redecorating are kept to a minimum.

With electric heat, you can pick the type of heat you want. There are 5 basic types of flameless electric heating equipment. Depending on your heating requirements, one system may be used separately, or several may be teamed together.

If you're planning a new home or thinking of converting your present heating system, check into electric heat. You'll find that it's the most modern, convenient type of home heat today. And it's clean.

Health Careers Rally

A health careers rally at Homewood-Flossmoor High School Wednesday, March 27, will bring together students from 16 area high schools and their parents -- so all can find out about more than 35 possible health professions and sub-professions.

The program will last from 7 until 9:30 p.m. It's been scheduled in the evening so that parents and students can both attend. Both boys and girls who are interested in medical careers are invited.

A slide presentation by Miss Sally Comins, program director of health careers council of Illinois, depicting many of the health professions, will open the program.

Doctors, nurses, and other representatives from the various health careers will be at the meeting, ready to answer questions about the various post high school medical programs. The training for a career in the medical area can range from a few months to ten or more years.

Some of the careers covered at the rally will be medical doctor, veterinary medicine, nurse - collegiate, associate, diploma, and practical; X-ray technologist, dentistry, dental assistant, dental hygienist, medical technologist, dietitian, physical therapist, social worker, pharmacist, medical records librarian, and medical careers in the armed forces.

"The rally's open to all students, not just members of our health careers club," said Miss Bachmann, Lincoln-Way High school counselor and advisor of the club.

High schools participating besides the host school, are, Bremen, Sandburg, Evergreen Park, Hillcrest, Lincoln-Way, Marion Catholic, Oak Lawn, Reavis, Rich Central, Rich East, Stagg, Tinley Park, Bloom, Thornton, and Crete-Monee.
